SPECIAL FEATURES

Omega AAM 956 Engine Oil Stop Leak is specifically formulated to seal and stop engine oil leaks without incurring high professional repair or even overhaul costs.

- Omega AAM 956 offers vehicle owners a quick solution to oil leaks effectively. There is no need for special tools or complex application procedures. Simply add Omega AAM 956 to the engine oil and it will start sealing leaks quickly, saving time and hassle.
- Omega AAM 956 rejuvenates rubber seals and gaskets of crankshaft, camshaft and valve stems, effectively plugging leaks and preventing further oil loss. This helps extend the time between costly engine repairs or overhauls, saving vehicle owners money in the long run.
- By effectively stopping oil leaks, Omega AAM 956 helps maintain proper engine oil levels and ensures better lubrication of engine components -- leading to improved engine efficiency and performance.

OUTSTANDING PROPERTIES

Formulated with an advanced package of high-performance additives, Omega AAM 956 is designed to offer long-lasting protection against oil leaks. In addition:

- Omega AAM 956 helps keep the suppleness of seals and gaskets, reducing the risk of cracking or drying out over time.
- Omega AAM 956 is compatible with various types of engine oils, including mineral, synthetic, and multi-grade oils.
- Omega AAM 956 provides a non-invasive solution for stopping leaks. It is harmless to catalytic converters and does not affect engine oil quality or viscosity.

USE FOR

Omega AAM 956 can be used in a wide range of gasoline & hybrid engines, making it a versatile solution for a variety of vehicle types.

Add Omega AAM 956 directly to the engine oil. One bottle (300ml) of Omega AAM 956 can treat up to six (6) liters of engine oil.

For best results use Omega AAM 956 at each oil change. Allow up to 300 kilometers for Omega AAM 956 to be fully effective. If there is no improvement, a mechanical deficiency is likely. Please consult a mechanic for more severe leaks or long-term solutions.
